The property would be used in whole or in part as a park, the village being free to sell part of it to aid in the maintenance of the rest.

Reeve Cantelon stated that the Public Utilities Commission had serious thoughts of engaging an independent man. There was some discussion as to how Council could deal with this situation, and whether the Village could afford a full-time worker. It was finally decided, in view of the lateness of the hour, and the uncertainty of the arrangement with the Public Utilities Commission continuing, to postpone dealing with this resignation until an adjourned session, probably on Monday, 17th November, subject to the discretion of the Reeve.

By common consent, all remaining business was also tabled until the adjourned session, and the meeting adjourned.
